A Salute to Our Cooks

Decatur County Memorial Hospital, located in Greensburg, Indiana, has served Decatur County and surrounding areas since 1922. The community has a tremendous heritage of various cultures, however, it is influenced by the Midwest persuasion.

This being an agricultural community, there are a tremendous number of great cooks in the area. We have gleaned favorite recipes from a number of people in the hospital community to share with one another through this cookbook.

There is the hope that much enjoyment of good food will be experienced with this purchase. You may also be delighted to know that proceeds from the sale of this cookbook are going toward the hospital building fund.
